

TrendForce Forecasts Global Market for AI-Powered Financial Robo-Advisors to Expand by a CAGR of 75% From 2016 to 2020

2017-07-06 TrendForce

TrendForce finds that the fastest application growth for AI within the financial industry is taking place in the field of investment consultation services.

AI-based solutions can combine real-time market data and investors' opinions across the Internet to create dynamic models for data analyses

Digitalization of financial services and financial inclusion are also helping the robo-advisor market to take off

Remote identity verification and customer services are two AI applications that are also in high demand within the financial industry
